

Easy Read services

 A man with dark hair and a beard, wearing a blue t-shirt, is holding a large white sign that says "easy read" in black lowercase letters.	Easy Read information is important for many people with an intellectual disability.
 A man in a dark blue shirt and a young man in a blue jacket and glasses are standing and looking at a document together. The man is pointing at the document.	Easy Read can help people to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• understand difficult information• be part of the conversation• make decisions
 Two men in suits are sitting at a wooden table, looking at a document. One man is pointing at the document. The document has the text "Please fill in this easy read form" and a logo.	Easy Read is also good for other people, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• people who need help reading• older people• people who use other languages• people who are in a hurry!

If you need to turn information into Easy Read, it is important to work with experts.

This means organisations who work with and employ people with an intellectual disability.

Inclusion Australia does not do Easy Read training or translations.

Please contact one of our members for information on their services.

CID are in NSW.

They do Easy Read translations and Easy Read training.

For more information, visit cid.org.au/inclusion-services/

You can also email business@CID.org.au

Developmental Disability WA are in Western Australia

They do Easy Read translations.

Please email ddwa@ddwa.org.au or call 08 9429 203.

SACID are in South Australia.

They do Easy Read translations and Easy Read training.

For more information, visit:

sacid.org.au/inclusion-services/

You can also contact Felicity by email:

felicity@sacid.org.au

SpeakOut are in Tasmania.

They do Easy Read translations and Easy Read training.

For more information, email Julie

easyread@speakoutadvocacy.org

VALID are in Victoria.

They do Easy Read translations and Easy Read training.

For more information, email Jon

jon@valid.org.au

If you have any other questions about Easy Read, please email us at admin@inclusionaustralia.org.au